You are presently in your life (= 0). So I have simply moved into one of your parallel lives and will fulfil my destiny. There is only one issue here. Actions taken in other parallel lives affect your present life (= 0). So, there is movement horizontally. I have taken life + 2 to give a bit of extra space.

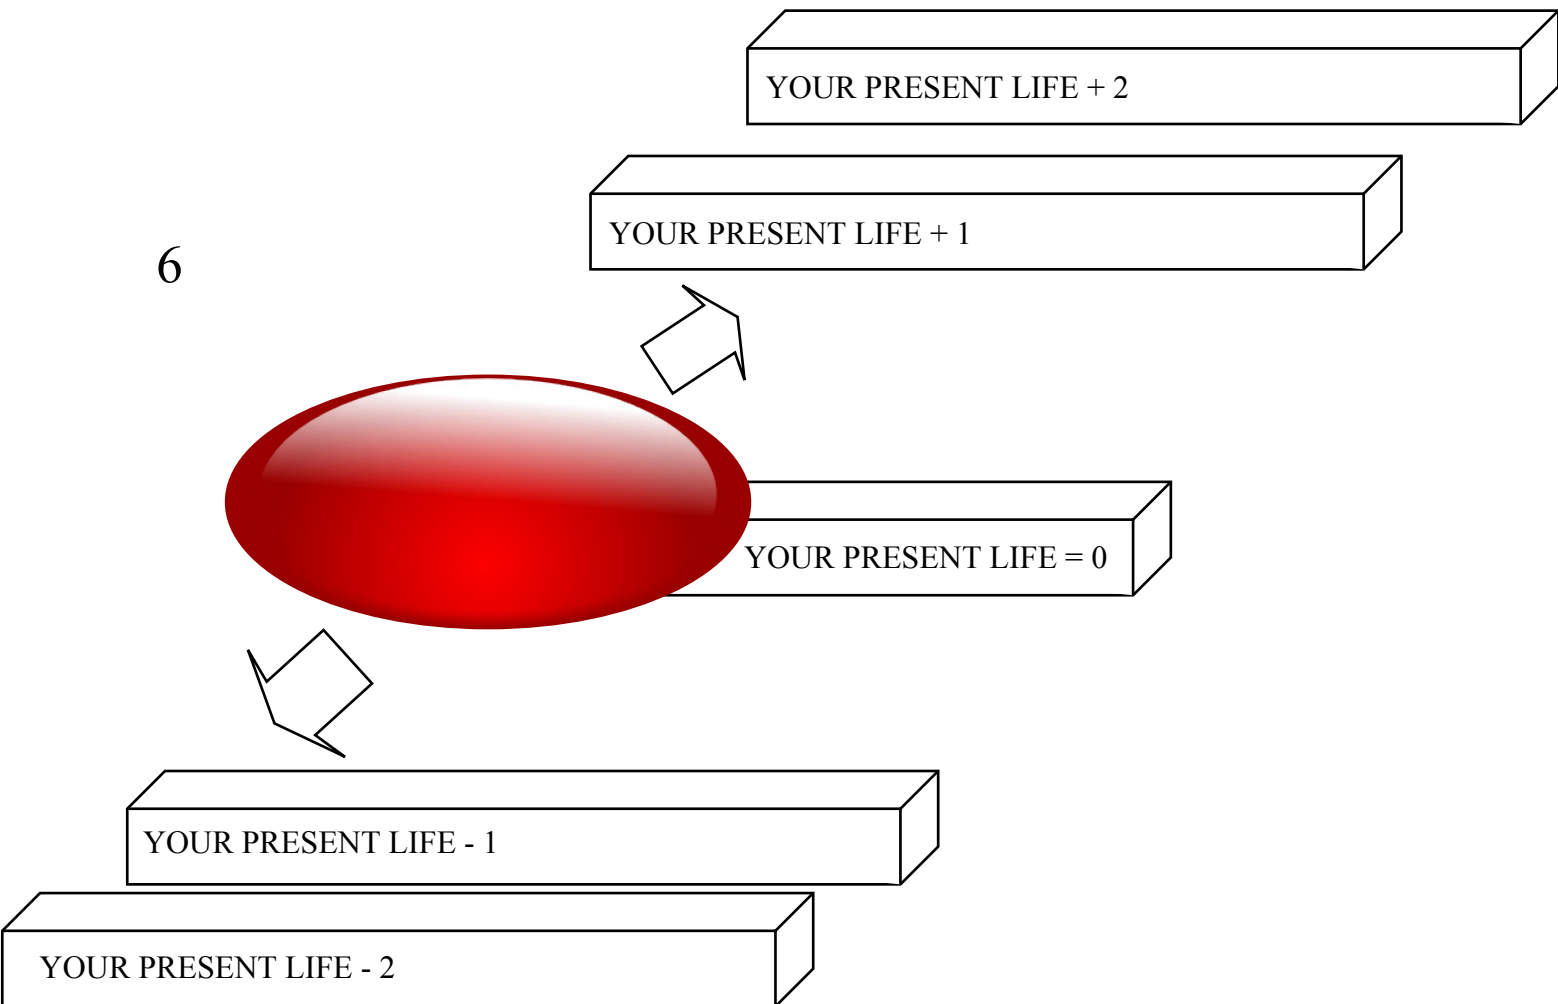

Remember this is a simple illustration. There are actually infinite lives horizontally and I think your migraines come from actions going on in one of them.

Level 7 is a collation of vertical past, present and future lives and horizontal parallel lives

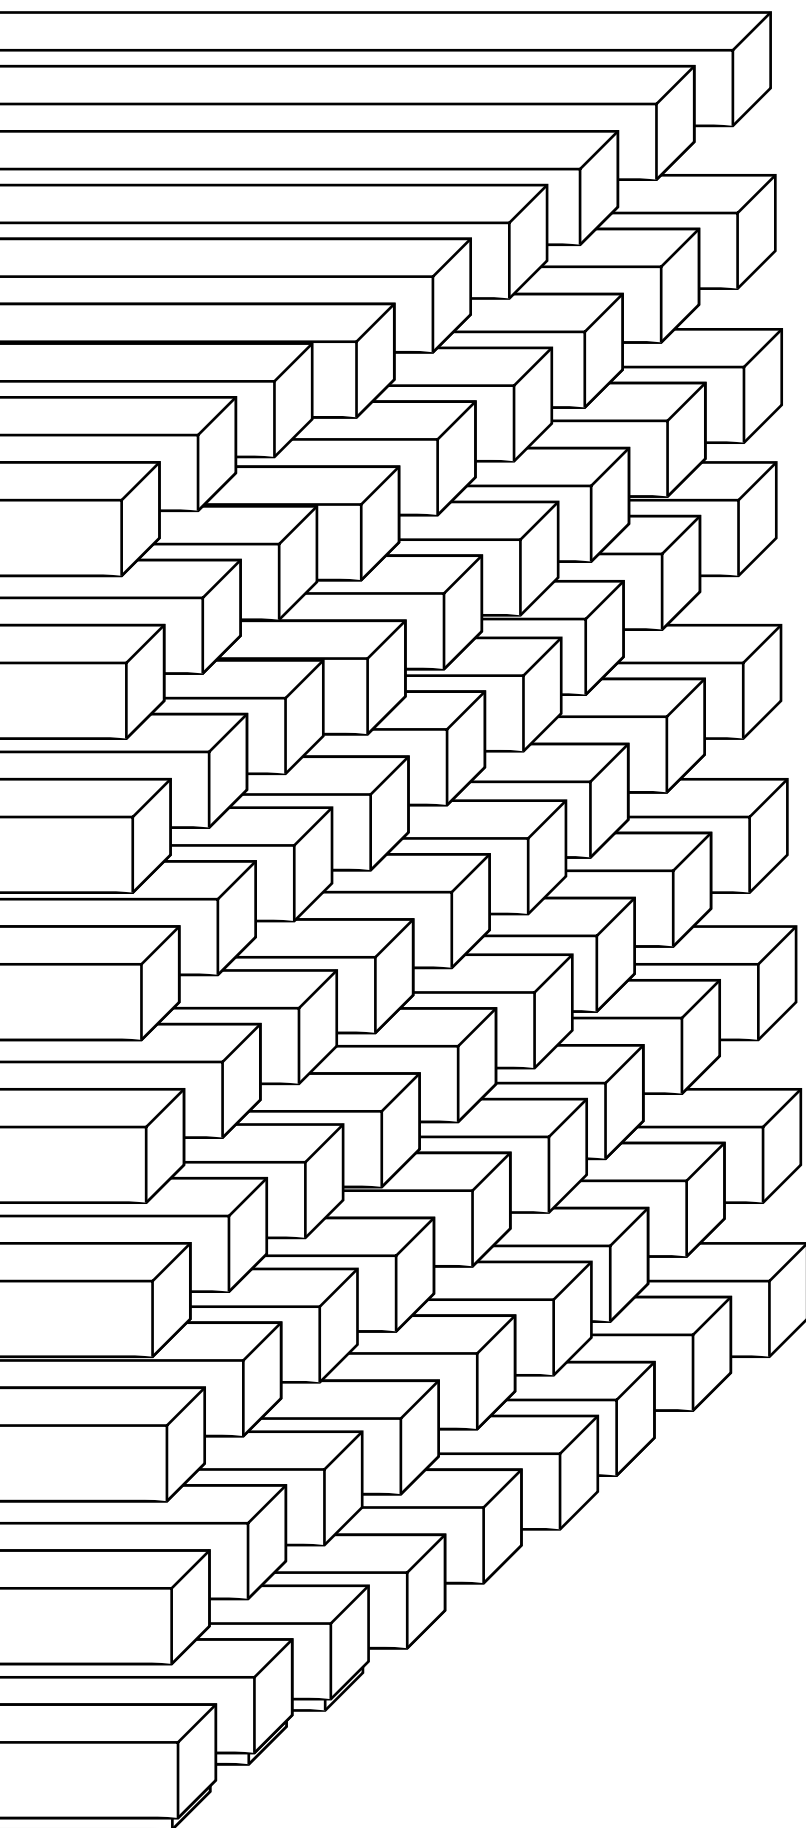

This is level 7 exploded view.

I have simply popped the concentration of energy and let it seep both ways horizontally.

When we talk about infinite vertical past, presents and futures, and infinite parallel lives, you can see in this sample, it can get very complicated.

Can you work out how I might enter your present parallel life +5 and then travel to your past life -3?

It is very complicated.

You can begin to get the gist of the issues involved here. And that is just one individual. And just a bit of that person's life.
